WOODMEN WERE HERE

Northeastern Picnic Attracts Many Strangers—Eighty-Four Candidates Adopted—Rain Mars Program.

The Northeastern Wisconsin Modern Woodmen Picnic Association conducted its annual gathering in Rhinelander last Friday and Saturday, July 3rd and 4th. It is estimated that about seven hundred visiting Woodmen were in attendance. The city was gaily decorated for the occasion. The program opened Friday evening with a parade which formed at the Woodmen hall on Stevens street and proceeded south to Anderson St., west to Brown street, east to Rieves street, then south on Stevens to the Armory. The parade contained about seven hundred men and was one of the longest ever seen here, extending over six blocks. It was headed by the Military Band, followed by the Merrill Woodmen drill team. Eighty-four candidates were in line and all the members of Lake Camp 1749 of this city. The local lodge was followed by several hundred out side Woodmen.

At the Armory the adoption of the eighty-four candidates took place. At this meeting W. R. Foster of Merrill was Banker, State Deputy B. F. Keeler of LaCrosse was at the Advisor's station, F. J. Koepke of this city was Clerk and District Deputy S. J. Williams of Merrill was Escort. C. W. Grout of Red Cloud, Neb., acted as consul and did great credit to himself and the order. Neighbor Grout's work was declared to be the best ever seen in Northern Wisconsin. Robert Corbett and Richard Alexander of this city were Watchmen and Sentries. The secret work was given by Neighbors Koepke and Grout, and was exemplified by the Merrill Forester Team. State Deputy Keeler was present and made a few appropriate remarks.

On the morning of July 4th the annual convention of the association was held at the Odd Fellows Hall. The convention was called to order by Matt Stapleton, chairman of the association. Officers elected for the ensuing year were W. R. Foster, Merrill, Chairman, F. J. Koepke, Rhinelander, Secretary. The subject of dividing the district was discussed by the delegates. It was proposed to form a district of six counties comprising Vilas, Lincoln, Langlade, Shawano, Marathon and Oneida. A committee of three was appointed to have charge of the dividing. No action was taken as to where the next picnic is to be held although Shawano and Tomahawk were mentioned as favorable cities.

Rain prevented the complete carrying out of the program which had been arranged for the day. The parade given in the afternoon was an attractive one. Several floats were in line conspicuously among which were those of the Woodmen and the Nichols Hardware Company. Several lodges also took part in the pageant. At the Pelican grove an attempt was made to hold the picnic but frequent showers interfered. An address on Woodcraft was given by Supreme Lecturer Chas. Whelan of Madison. Mr. Whelan is a forceful speaker and deeply impressed his hearers.

The Forester team of Mulberry Camp, Merrill, gave an exhibition drill. This team is one of the finest organizations of its kind in the country. At the meeting of the Head Camp of Modern Woodmen held at Peoria three weeks ago, the team won first prize of $300 in the Junior Competition drill. Several minor prizes were also won. An admiring crowd witnessed the drills of the team here and the boys were the subject of many flattering remarks.

On the evening of July 4th dances were held at the Armory, Gilligan's hall, and at a bawery on Thayer St. Large crowds were in attendance and the merriment continued until a late hour.

Regardless of the fact that the inclemency of the weather served to mar the picnic and celebration the people kept good natured and did not show their disappointment.

The visitors voiced Rhinelander as one of the best towns on the map and had nothing but words of praise for the hospitality extended to them by our citizens and especially by the members of Lake Camp 1749 Modern Woodmen of America.

WILL GO TO SAENGERFEST.

About fifteen members of the Leidenkrantz, Rhinelander's German singing society, will attend the Saengerfest to be held at Stevens Point Saturday and Sunday July 18th and 19th. This Saengerfest promises to be one of the most largely attended affairs of the kind ever held in Wisconsin. A fine program has been arranged and singing societies from all parts of the state will compete for prizes. The Rhinelander Liederkreis is composed of vocalists of rare talent and the organization will be sure to win many honors at the fest.

A NEW FACTORY.

Akron, Ohio, Concern to Establish Novelty Works Here.

J. W. Styne of Akron, Ohio, was in the city Saturday, looking over the ground with a view of establishing a branch plant of the Zenith Novelty Company here. This concern of which Mr. Styne is president and general manager, manufactures novelties and advertising goods of all descriptions, and does a business which extends throughout this country and Europe. At present the firm operates three factories located at Akron, O., Dallas, Tex., and Nashville, Tenn. Mr. Styne said that the Rhinelander plant would be a small one and would give employment to about twenty men. A suitable site has not yet been secured. The company has also been considering Shelbygan as a favorable location, but it is Mr. Styne's opinion that Rhinelander will be given the preference.

While this industry will be a small one, yet every new enterprise, no matter of what proportion, helps to boom the business activity of the city and is welcomed.

MARRIED.

WIESE-BALL.

The following is from the Daily Northwestern of Oshkosh: Mr. Charles Ball of Rhinelander, Wis., and Miss Eugene H. Wiese of this city were quietly married Sunday afternoon at three o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Wiese. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. George Fritzel of Des Moines, Ia., and witnessed by relatives of the contracting couple. Mr. Fred R. Wiese, a brother of the bride, acted as best man and Miss Theda Boston of Stevens Point, Wis., a niece of the groom was bridesmaid.

Following the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served. At early hour this morning Mr. and Mrs. Ball departed for Chicago. They will make their home at Rhinelander, Wis., where Mr. Ball is employed as office manager for the A. S. Pierce Lumber Company. The bride has been teaching school at Seattle, Wash., for the last school year and is well known and highly esteemed in this city. The following out of town guests were present: Mrs. F. Boston and daughter, Theda, of Stevens Point and Mr. and Mrs. Hodge of Menasha.

Miss Wiese was an assistant in our local high school several years and is a general favorite among her former pupils and friends, who will warmly welcome her back as a permanent resident.

Mr. Ball was reared in Rhinelander, is a graduate of Rhinelander High school and since graduation has been a most successful employee in the large lumber concerns of the city.

SLOCUM-CHAPPEL.

Charles E. Chafee of this city and Miss Lillian Slocum of Chetek were married Saturday afternoon. The ceremony took place at the bride's home at Chetek and was performed by Elder Stevens of the Adventist church. The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Gavin and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Beggs. The groom is the youngest son of Mrs. Calvin Chafee and has spent practically all his life in this city. He is a young man respected by all who know him.

His bride is a pleasing young lady and is welcome to our city. She was until the close of last year a teacher in the schools at Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. Chafee are residing with his mother on Pelham street.

MUST PAY FOR PONIES.

Those who purchased ponies from Eno Loomis, the horse thief arrested at Merrill last week, are being compelled to pay the Indians for the animals. The Merrill News says:

C. B. Taylor and a young Indian returned last evening to Goodnow. The two were here looking up some of the ponies sold by Loomis, the horse thief, captured here a week ago. O. Bauman, the baker and H. Harris, who bought the ponies from the horse thief, had to settle with the Indians. Loomis acknowledged his guilt at Rhinelander Monday, and he will be taken before Judge Silverthorn in circuit court and receive a prison sentence.

The penalty for horse stealing in Wisconsin is from three to fifteen years in the State penitentiary.

THIS SMITH CELEBRATED.

As the result of an over strenuous Fourth of July celebration Andrew Smith, a resident of Jennings, this county, is a prisoner for ninety days in the Oneida County jail.

Smith was charged with disorderly conduct and willful destruction of property. He was brought to this city Monday, plead guilty in Municipal Court to the charge against him and received the above sentence. Drinking freely until he had acquired considerable of a load of Jennings whiskey, the man went entirely "loco" and started on a rampage. It is said that he tore down picket fences and smashed in several glass fronts. Before he could be rounded up and taken into custody he had succeeded in doing considerable damage.

PANTHER KILLS MAN

Partly Devoured Body Found in Woods Near Brantwood. Missing Child Recovered.

Early last Saturday forenoon the partly devoured body of a man was found in the woods about three miles west of Brantwood. The gruesome find was made by a party of woods men who were on their way to town to observe July 4th.

Owing to the condition of the body it is very evident that the man was killed and partly eaten by some wild beast. The escaped panther that has been seen about various towns near here along the Soo road, is suspected of the crime. The ground about where the man lay showed signs of the struggle which took place when the animal made the attack. The body was horribly mutilated. One arm and a leg were missing and the face was so badly scratched and lacerated as to be unrecognizable. The breast was entirely eaten away exposing the vitals. There was nothing on the torn clothing which might serve to identify the corpse. In a vest pocket was found fifty-five dollars in currency. On a rotten log not far from the spot where the body lay could be distinctly seen the bloody cat-like foot prints of some large animal. That the beast is the panther there is no doubt.

It is thought that the man had been dead about two days, and it was just about that time that the panther was reported to have been last seen near Clifford.

Saturday morning, a little girl five years of age, named Novak wandered away from her home near Tripoli and became lost in the woods. For a time grave fears were entertained that the little one was a victim of the panther. A party was immediately organized and after a search lasting several hours, the child was found asleep in a hollow log.

KILLS FOUR BEARS.

Mother Bears and Cubs Shot by Eugene McHugh Near Pelican Camp.

Four black bears, a mother and three cubs, were shot near the Pelican Lumber Company's camp in the vicinity of North Pelican Lake, Sunday. This killing of big game, which would do credit to the famous hunting record of "Teddy" Roosevelt, was made by Eugene McHugh, an employee at the camp. The bears had been seen in that section of the country at different times during the last few weeks and several unsuccessful attempts had been made to kill or capture the animals.

Shouldering his rifle, McHugh started out to exterminate this family of Bruins. He had not wandered far from camp when the bears were encountered. They proved easy victims to his good marksmanship. Only four shots were required to bring the animals down. The mother bear was an exceptionally large animal, and it is judged that the cubs were about three months old. A bear roast was served at a hotel on Rives street, Monday evening and the feast was partaken of by a large number. During the last six weeks six bears have been killed in Oneida County.

GOLDBERG IN TROUBLE AGAIN.

R. M. Goldberg and E. M. Newald of Gillett, have been arrested on a complaint sworn by Gustave H. Kill and, deputy state fire warden, charging them with L. J. Newald of Green Bay with setting fire to and destroying the Gillette opera house on May 31st, and with it a stock of goods stored in the building, the object stated in the complaint being to secure the insurance.

Goldberg and E. M. Newald were taken before County Judge Jones at Oconto and their examination was continued until July 8. Ball was fixed at $1000 each. Goldberg is not unknown to many residents of Rhinelander and has been in trouble on several occasions before.

HE WENT TO TILL.

A story is going the rounds about a man rushing into a dental office, one day recently and seeming mighty anxious about the efficiency of taking gas, and if it really put a fellow to sleep good and sound so that he wouldn't know or feel anything. Being assured on this point the dentist said, "Just get right into this chair and show me the tooth." "Tooth nothing," said the anxious patient. "I went to Dr. Till and I want you to pull this plaster off my back."

A FORTUNATE FOURTH.

On July 4th there were no accidents of a serious nature reported in this city. Several of the younger generation received slightly burned hands as the result of holding fire crackers too long after lighting. These accidents are but trivial and will occur as long as the small boy is careless, and he is most generally, especially so on July 4th. Since the prohibiting of the giant fire cracker in this state accidents on the 4th are less numerous.

WINS BOTH GAMES

City Base Ball Team Defeats Omro—Score 14 to 4 and 3 to 2.

The base ball game at the fair grounds the afternoon of July 4th between the Rhinelander city team and the Omro team was too one sided to be interesting after the first three or four innings. The home team clearly outclassed the visitors and many of the fans were surprised that Omro had been called a good team. The amusing thing is, when the home boys clearly outclass their opponents, the on lookers think the visiting team is no good no matter how well the game is played, and when the home team is defeated, they can not play ball. Both views are too radical, on the whole, our boys have played good ball this season and they have had worthy opponents.

Sunday, the score stood three to two in favor of the home team at the end of the fifth inning, and the on lookers felt it could have been a shut out had the Rhinelander team wished to make it so.

Next Sunday, the home boys play at Antigo. It will keep them busy if they defeat the Antigo team.

COMPLETES SCHOOL CENSUS.

Last week, City Clerk Swedberg finished taking the census of school children between the ages of four and twenty years. The school fund is distributed among the various districts of the state in proportion to the number of school children living within the district June 30. Since Mr. Swedberg began taking the census there has been a gradual increase from year to year. This year there are seventy-eight more children than a year ago. Many of the larger cities estimate their growth in population upon the increase in the number of children of school age.

Using this as an index the population of Rhinelander has increased about two hundred the past year.

The following is the census of the different wards of the city:

	Male	Female	Total
First.....	170	152	321
Second.....	162	177	339
Third.....	170	177	347
Fourth.....	112	106	218
Fifth.....	152	188	340
Sixth.....	170	150	320

Total.....351 938 1889
As shown above the fifth ward leads with most other wards following closely except the fourth which drops far below.

ANCIENT LITERATURE.

To the Editor:
While talking of ancient literature, I have a book the title page of which reads: "A Confession of Faith, owned and consented to by the churches in the Colony of Connecticut in New England, Assembled by delegation at Saybrook, September 9, 1708." "New London N. E. printed by Thomas Short 1710." Almost 200 years ago also have a set of Almanacs from 1817 to 1821; and "A Coquette, A Novel," printed in 1823.

But most of all would like to say, if not taxing the good nature of the editor too far:

Some time ago I had a file of "The Daily Chronicle" of Washington D. C., commencing with the assassination of Lincoln, through the capture trial—complete and unabridged—and execution of the conspirators.

FLAMBEAU RESERVATION CHANGED

The separation of the Lac du Flambeau Indian Reservation in Vilas county from the La Pointe agency took place July 1st. W. N. Slickes, assistant superintendent of the Chippewa school of Oklahoma, has been appointed as the new head of the Flambeau Indians. There are about 700 Indians on the Reservation. It was one of the first Reservations on which permission was given to cut timber. During the last fourteen years the Reservation has been logged very heavily until there now remains about one year's cut. Mr. Slickes will be superintendent of the government Indian school and will have charge of affairs on the Reservation.

PECULIAR PLANT FROM COAST.

There is on exhibition in the display window of the E. E. Kretlow drug store a kelp found from the California coast. This form of plant life was brought from California by Mrs. Bishop.

Tourists visiting the beaches of Southern California are filled with wonder at the many strange plants washed ashore after a storm. The kelp found is the most weird and peculiar. The bulb portion of the kelp is sometimes as large as a child's head and is topped with great spreading branches, not unlike the antlers of a deer. At the base of the trunk is attached a tall or stalk measuring from 10 to 60 feet in length.

CONVENTION IS OPENED

Proceedings of the First Day in the Great National Gathering of the Democrats at Denver---City Elaborately Decorated in Their Honor

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

Denver, July 7.—The Democratic national convention was formally called to order at noon by Thomas Taggart, chairman of the national committee, in the spacious auditorium erected by the citizens of Denver for the use of the convention.

Rt. Rev. James I. Keane, archbishop of Wyoming, one of the most eloquent and able prelates in America, made the opening prayer.

Call for Convention Read.

After the delegates and visitors had settled in their seats, Urey Woodson of Kentucky, secretary of the national committee, read the call for the convention, and a brief period of delay followed. The committee on rules then made its report, and the officers of the convention were announced.

They are as follows:

Temporary Chairman—Theodore A. Bell, California.

General Secretary—Urey Woodson, Kentucky.

Assistant General Secretary—Edwin Sefton, Washington, D. C.

Sergeant-at-Arms—John I. Martin, Missouri.

Chief Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms—J. C. Fenn, Indiana.

Chief Doorkeeper—Eugene W. Sullivan, Illinois.

Parliamentarian—H. D. Crutcheheld, Kentucky.

Chaplain for Opening Day—Rt. Rev. James J. Keane, archbishop of Wyoming.

Official Stenographer—M. W. Blumberg, Washington, D. C.

Temporary Chairman Theodore A. Bell, in his speech, frequently aroused his audience to enthusiasm, and the applause was especially generous and lasting where reference was made to the record of the party or the leaders whom Democrats delight to honor.

National Colors Used.

Red, white and blue were the only colors used in decorating the auditorium, and the decorations were the most elaborate ever seen in a Democratic convention. A unique feature was 52 huge stars artistically arranged on the ceiling. These stars represented the states, territories and insular possessions, the names appearing in blue letters and a white background in the center of each star. The points of the stars were red and white. Directly over the speaker's platform, against the wall of the building near the junction with the ceiling, was a large shield, 16 feet high, carrying six flags 12 feet long draped in artistic folds. In addition to this main shield there were four other shields over the platform, each ten feet high. The six flags on these shields were eight feet long.

Just below the main shield hung a mammoth portrait of George Washington, 14 by 16 feet in dimensions. Red, white and blue bunting was draped from the sides of the shield to the bottom of the portrait of the "Father of His Country."

Directly under the last shield, on each side of the Washington portrait, was suspended a portrait, one of Thomas Jefferson and the other of Andrew Jackson. On each side of these portraits a large American flag was draped. These flags are 40 by 60 feet in dimensions. Beyond these portraits, at each end of the wall, and hanging above the gallery, was suspended a pendant, ten feet in diameter, upon which bunting was draped. Upon these pendants a tiger was painted. The back of the platform was banked with palms. Twenty stuffed American eagles, with extended wings, were suspended over the platform, each bird carrying in its bill red, white and blue silk ribbons that were draped back to the wall.

Balcony and Galleries Draped.

In the auditorium the balcony extends all the way around the huge building, but the galleries are limited to each end. The front of the balcony and the fronts of the galleries, 55,000 yards being necessary to complete this part of the decorative scheme. At intervals of five feet shields, three feet high, were placed.

Thousands of yards of bunting were used in draping the corridors of the building and the walls of the balcony and galleries. Delegates were supplied with small American flags to wave when their feelings reached a pitch that compelled an extraordinary demonstration.

Although the decorations in the auditorium were elaborate, the street decorations were even more picturesque, and the illumination scheme was the most brilliant Denver ever attempted.

Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets, three of the main thoroughfares in the city, were illuminated in color. On Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets there are eight from ornamental electric poles to a block, on each side of the street. On these streets the poles were draped with red, white and blue bunting. Wires were stretched across the street from these poles and from each wire two American flags were suspended. The flags hung over the street and were "weighted" to prevent them from becoming tangled and torn by the wind.

On Seventeenth street the scheme was the same, except there were only six poles to each block, two at each corner and two at each alley.

At each crossing two wires were strung diagonally across the intersection, from which red, white and blue incandescent lights hung. The business houses along the three streets were handsomely decorated with bunting and flags. Elaborate and costly electric display signs had been put in place on the buildings, and at night Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets were a blaze of light.

Electric display signs are one of the main features of business life in Denver. Every merchant has an electric sign, and as all of the streets that cross the three thoroughfares described are live business streets, the committee on illumination did not find it necessary to add much in the way of light to these avenues of trade. However, the business houses were handsomely decorated with bunting and flags, so the entire business section of Denver was a mass of color when the big convention opened.

NEAR DEATH IN LAKE MICHIGAN

OCCUPANTS OF VILLE DE DIEPPE DRAGGED FOR MILES OVER SURFACE OF WATER.

Then Jump Up 7,000 Feet. Two More Competitors in the Big Eel-lion Race are Landed in Barbed Wire Fence.

Chicago, July 6.—Col. A. E. Mueller and George Schroenbeck, the aeronauts who sailed in the French balloon Ville de Dieppe Saturday from Chicago in the endurance balloon contest came to earth near Benton Harbor, Mich., during the night after having been dragged for miles along the surface of Lake Michigan.

They saved themselves from worse fate only by throwing overboard every movable thing in the balloon basket and taking to the rigging.

They returned to Chicago yesterday morning by train. Neither were injured, but both were soaked to the skin and a sudden ascent to a height of 7,000 feet chilled both occupants of the balloon.

Schroenbeck is only seventeen years old and it was his first ascent. Col. Mueller is an aeronaut of experience and that there was no loss of life was due entirely to his coolness and ability.

Of the other balloons, the King Edward, Canada's entry, landed near Port Huron, Mich.

The big Chicago of 110,000 cubic feet capacity, came to earth near Atwood, Perth county, Ontario, at 9:30 o'clock this morning according to a long distance telephone message to Chicago. The occupants, C. A. Coey and Capt. G. L. Bumbrough, were reported well.

The United States landed a mile east of Pinkerton station, Bruce county, Ontario, at 8:30 o'clock.

The Columbia also crossed into Canada and while C. H. Leichter and Capt. Martin Peterson managed to leave the car near Clinton, Ont., they were bruised and cut by being slammed into barb wire fences and trees and both required surgical attention. Capt. Peterson suffered a broken rib and a deep cut on his hand. Mr. Leichter's injuries consisted of lacerations of a hand, of the face and of the leg.

The cold air current over Lake Michigan brought peril to other balloons than the Ville de Dieppe.

FIREBUG IN WAREHOUSES

Wisconsin Tobacco Grower Suffers Total Loss.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., July 3.—George Brewster's tobacco warehouses were destroyed by fire at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, and it is the belief of Brewster and the authorities that the fire was of incendiary origin. The state fire marshal has been asked to investigate. It is believed here that the fire was started by members of the Kentucky night riders, who are said to have come to Wisconsin to bring the tobacco growers not in the mood to time. Others believe it was set by a gang who have set other buildings on fire during the past few weeks. The company carrying insurance on Brewster's warehouses canceled its policy yesterday, and he had applied for insurance with another company, but the agent did not know whether it would assume the risk.

WILL NOT SELL WOOL.

Fourteen Cents Offered Keeps the Market Dull.

Pierre, S. D., July 3.—Wool buyers in this part of the state are offering about 14 cents for clip, but are not doing any great amount of buying at that figure, the growers holding out for better prices. A few sales have been reported from Belle Fourche at 10 cents, but not many deals are being made. The local growers are holding on for higher offers and expect to get them before the close of the season.

Washing Fluid Blows Up.

Bisbee, N. D., July 3.—Theodore Johnson was seriously burned about the face, head and hands this morning by an explosion of gasoline. He is employed at the Hotel Columbia as a chore boy, and in preparing a washing solution of gasoline and water over a fire in a range the gasoline exploded.

Adjudged Insane.

Menominee, Wis., July 3.—John Welsh, late of Minneapolis, who stabbed his wife with a pair of scissors at Colfax last week, was adjudged insane and taken to Mendota last night. Mrs. Welsh is still in a critical condition.

NELSON WHIPS GANS.

Knocks the Negro Out in the Seventeenth Round.

San Francisco, July 4.—Battling Nelson today won the title of champion lightweight pugilist of the world from the man who defeated him at Goldfield, Nev., almost two years ago. He knocked out Joe Gans in the seventeenth round after as desperate a fight as any that had been seen here in years.

Slept on the Track.

Grand Rapids, Minn., July 3.—The scattered remains of a man were found along the track for nearly 200 feet at the east end of town. From clothing and other evidences found the body it was identified as that of Carl Johnson, a laborer who had been in town the night before. It is supposed he went to sleep on the track and that the west-bound flyer on the Great Northern hit him. The engineer reported from a station up the line that he had seen a dark object on the track.

Onion Crop of Texas.

Almost three-quarters of a million dollars will be the gross receipts from the Texas onion crop this year. Had it not been for an excess of rainfall, which materially damaged recent shipments, it is expected the earnings would easily have reached $1,000,000.

BADGER NEWS NOTES

WISCONSIN HAPPENINGS TOLD IN BRIEF FORM.

SEVERE STORM HITS STATE

Does $50,000 Damage at Janesville—Strikes Evansville, Yorkville, Corliss and Other Wisconsin Towns.

Janesville.—A severe storm which swept over this city did about $50,000 worth of damage. It swept to the west of Janesville and struck Utterbolen Corners, where it struck a funeral cortege which was just leaving the church. Carriages were overturned and three persons were injured.

At Evansville, in the western portion of town, considerable damage was done. Burns, sheds, tobacco sheds and large silos were blown down and trees 18 inches in diameter were broken off.

The storm went east from Evansville and jumped about two miles before it struck again, working havoc to buildings and crops on several farms.

The same storm struck the village of Union Grove, town of Yorkville in Racine county, and other sections in the western part of the two counties, blowing down barns, out-buildings and killing a number of cattle and doing other damage. So far as known no one was injured.

HOW HE FOOLED UNCLE SAM.

Man Tells Police He Increased His Weight.

Oshkosh.—That he had successfully fooled Uncle Sam's recruiting agent by piling pieces of iron and other heavy articles to his tie so as to pass the weight test on being examined for entry in the United States army, was the admission of a Fond du Lac young man of good family when held by the Oshkosh police under suspicion of burglary. After the examination he had gone into an alley to relieve himself of the weights, and neighbors who saw him do so thought he was throwing away stolen articles. The police patiently waited all night for the young man to come around to get the property, and when he did they held him.

Heroine in Pinafiores.

La Crosse.—Walking into the La Crosse hospital, eight-year-old Joelle Anderson asked that she be operated upon for appendicitis. She was accompanied only by her 12-year-old sister, who remained through the trying ordeal. The child has shown unflinching courage and her recovery is looked for.

Child Crushed to Death.

Green Bay.—The five-year-old daughter of George Kolochowski was crushed to death before the eyes of scores of persons on Main street under a heavily laden pea wagon. The little one had climbed onto the wagon to secure some of the peas when it lost its grip and fell under the wheels.

Succceeds Dean McGinnity.

Janesville.—Anticipating the death of the Very Rev. Dean McGinnity of St. Patrick's church, it is learned that Archbishop Messmer has appointed Rt. Rev. Father Eugene Reddy of Lake Geneva as pastor of the Janesville church in case the dean should die during his absence.

Surrenders Its Franchise.

Holot.—Voluntary surrender was made by the Holot Water, Gas & Electric company of all its franchise rights and it will operate under the intermediate franchise act. The council has ordered an investigation by the commission to determine the equity of the present rates.

Fishermen Balk at Ruling.

Nellsville.—Fishermen are up in arms over the order of the Power company at Hatfield that no camping is to be allowed on the company's property. As it owns pretty nearly every acre for miles around this order to some extent makes a preserve.

Charged with Burglary.

Kenosha.—Frank Taylor, claiming Milwaukee as his home, and arrested here while in the act of burglarizing the home of A. B. Ames, was arraigned in justice court. He waived examination and was returned to jail under bonds of $1,500.

Drowning Boy Crazes Father.

Racine.—Charles Feltho, aged nine years, fell from a small boat into Root river and drowned. The father when he saw the dead body of his boy was nearly crazed, and smashed the boat from which the boy fell into a dozen pieces.

Two Children Burned to Death.

Rice Lake.—Zone and Loua, aged four and six years, respectively, sons of George Rohrig, were burned to death in a shed fire here.

Attempt to Wreck Train.

Appleton.—An attempt to wreck an Ashland division Northwestern passenger train was made a mile east of Appleton. A pile of ties had been placed on the track, but the engineer observed the obstruction in time to bring his train to a halt.

Candidate for Renomination.

SEPARATE A RESERVATION.

FOUR PERISH IN FLAMES.

La Pointe Agency No Longer Has Control Over Flambeau Indians.

Mother and Three Children Die in Milwaukee Fire.

Chippewa Falls.—The separation of the Lac du Flambeau Indian reservation in Vilas county from the La Pointe agency has taken place. W. N. Siskles, assistant superintendent of the Chippewa school of Oklahoma, was designated as the new head of the Flambeau Indians. Flambeau has nearly 700 Indians. It was one of the first reservations on which the permission to cut pine was given and the last 14 years it has been logged until there remains only about one year's wood cut. The logging on the reservation being nearly completed, it was considered that the reservation could be managed by the school superintendent. Mr. Siskles is superintendent of the Flambeau school and the reservation.

SAYS BRIBES WERE TAKEN.

An Anonymous Writer Makes Charges Against Kenosha Council.

Kenosha.—Something of a stir was caused in official circles by the receipt of anonymous letters from Chicago by the local newspaper in which a man signing himself "Detective" offered to furnish evidence of wholesale bribery in Kenosha. It is alleged that several of the members of the common council and at least one city official of high standing were connected with the acceptance of bribes. The man demands $2,000 for his evidence. An effort may be made to discover the writer.

Must Tell Who Put Up.

Beloit.—The action of the council in deferring action on licenses until the saloon keepers showed what part they had in distributing the money alleged to have been furnished by brewing companies for election purposes means that the liquor dealers' association must tell what it received for election purposes and what it did with the money.

Elopes with Child.

Sheboygan.—William J. Heath of Pentwater, Mich., was held awaiting the arrival of Michigan officers. He came to this city accompanied by a 14-year-old girl, Mabel Van Brocklin, who he said was his daughter. The child denied this statement. It is charged that Heath, who is 10 years of age, intended to be married to the child.

Kills Himself in a Park.

Waukesha.—Michael J. Beam, aged 41 years, foreman at the heating plant of the Northern Milwaukee Street car line for many years, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a .22-caliber revolver while he sat on a bench in the city park directly beneath the east window of the Carnegie library.

Locktenders Fight.

Appleton.—Twenty-three Fox river valley locktenders and Uncle Sam locked horns in court. The tenders have determined to fight the government and hold out for the fulfillment of a contract entered into on June 1, when they signed to become locktenders in various cities of the valley.

Saved by a Small Girl.

Neenah.—Ed. Calder, a young man of Menasha, attempted to dive into the canal here. His head struck the bottom and he was rendered unconscious. A girl of 12 seeing the accident, grasped his arm and held him up until he was pulled from the water by men who heard her screams.

No Food for Twenty Days.

Madison.—Over 20 days without anything to eat is the record of Mrs. Martha O. Melanes. She was 99 years old last March and three weeks ago stopped eating, but continued to drink water. She retains consciousness and talks with members of the family as rationally as ever.

Victim of Fireworks.

Beloit.—Holt has the first Fourth of July victim of the state. Willie Cunningham, aged eight years, will probably lose his eyesight and is in danger of his life. He was playing with some powder and matches. The inhalation of the hot flames affected his lungs seriously.

Mother of Eighteen.

Wausau.—Mrs. Eugene Du Chaine, the mother of 18 children, 13 of whom are living, is dead. The deceased was 60 years of age. When three years of age she came with her parents to Wisconsin. Fond du Lac being the place where their first home was established.

Refuses Licenses to Six.

Racine.—The long drawn-out fight over the granting of liquor licenses waged by the anti-saloon advocates, came practically to an end at the adjourned meeting of the council. Six applications were refused.

Eighteen Cities at Feast.

Fond du Lac.—The Eastern Wisconsin Bezirk Singing societies met here. A mass choir of 500 voices accompanied by a band of 23 pieces was one of the features of the feast. Eighteen cities were represented.

Small Boys Are Jailed.

Portage.—Five boys ranging from 12 to 14 years in age, were convicted of throwing stones at a passing passenger train on the Milwaukee road, and sentenced to five days in jail in default of a two-dollar fine.

Change Examination Time.

Madison.—President Van Hise of the university was notified that the qualifying examination for the Rhodes scholarship will be held next October instead of in January, as heretofore.

From the State Capital

Items of Importance to Wisconsin People, Gleaned at Madison.

Madison.—The Badger State Optical society was formed during the third annual convention of the Wisconsin Retail Jewelers' association in Milwaukee. Several hundred state members attended. The eighth annual gathering of the Wisconsin Association of Optometrists was held at the same place. Secretary William George Bruce, Merchants and Manufacturers' association, welcomed the jewelers. President Gustave Keller, Appleton, responded. There was talk of forming an examining board of jewelers to pass on the qualifications of applicants for positions as watchmakers. Secretary Franklin Thomson and the entertainment committee of three in the city arranged a number of entertainment features. The Badger State Optical society was made up of members of the jewelers' association. Ways and means were discussed for securing for Wisconsin an optical law. The Wisconsin Association of Optometrists also met. The visitors went to Watkiss beach on Thursday cars for the annual banquet in the clubhouse. A. A. Luck, Antigo, gave a talk on "Skiagraphy." Dr. Reno Weiss, professor of orthodontia, dental department of Wisconsin College of Physicians and Surgeons, Milwaukee, spoke on Dental Lessons and Their Concomitant Ocular Effect.

German Educators Given Welcome. German educators numbering 200 from all parts of the United States who came to Milwaukee for the national convention of the German-American Teachers' association were welcomed in the Alhambra theater. A feature was the abundance of musical numbers. The stage was occupied by several hundred children dressed in white, who divided honors with the Milwaukee Maennerchor, which was repeatedly encored. Prof. Leo Stern, president of the executive committee, gave the opening address. Mayor David S. Rose was unable to be present, and Superintendent of Schools Carroll G. Benson welcomed the visitors. President August S. Lindemann, school board, spoke of great work by German teachers in preserving the tongue of the fatherland. Max Grielsch, president of the teachers' association, spoke on the aims of the association.

May Take in Cincinnati. In the convention of the German Evangelical Synod of Wisconsin, in Milwaukee, a committee was appointed to investigate and report next year on the desirability of annexing the Cincinnati synod. Rev. E. F. Dornfeld, St. Mark's church, Milwaukee, was elected trustee of the synod. Rev. B. S. Ruten, Menominee, was elected a member of the home mission. This board of trustees for Northwestern University, Watertown, was chosen: Ministers, Rev. T. Sauer, Appleton; K. Marshamiller, Manitowish; E. Dornfeld, Milwaukee; laymen, August Koelich, Milwaukee; George Zusler, La Crosse. The treasurer's report showed a total income of $62,000, of which $57,000 has been expended. The selection of a man to fill the newly created office of collector of synod funds was left to the trustees of Northwestern university.

Chain City Wants It Next. First Assistant Postmaster General C. J. Grandfield notified the officers of the Wisconsin State Association of Post Office Clerks that Guy Gould, superintendent of salaries and allowances of the post office department was designated to represent the first assistant postmaster general at the eighth annual convention of the association of Wisconsin clerks at Oshkosh. Frank T. Rogers of Chicago, president of the United National Association of Post Office Clerks, was at the meeting as were also several prominent Wisconsin postmasters. Sheboygan and Daraboo sought next year's convention.

Fine Six Months' Record. The semi-annual report of the state insurance department shows receipts amounting to $556,261.96, only $7,222.08 less than the total receipts for the entire year of 1907 when the net revenue to the state after paying salaries and incidental expenses was $557,472.13. The total number of companies now doing business in the state is 615.

Secure Pardon for Bigamist. A pardon was granted Fred Stenwedel, convicted bigamist, by Gov. J. O. Davidson. Judge Brazee and others petitioned for it on the ground that Stenwedel's family was in destitute circumstances in Chicago. Stenwedel married Miss Tillie Heubolt of this city on April 12, 1907. He had a wife and four children at the time.

Antigo Makes a Complaint. The state railroad commission held a hearing on the complaint of Mayor George W. Hill and other residents of Antigo against the Antigo Water company for excessive rates for service. The commission took the case under advisement. The commission also had a hearing on the application of the Twin City & Lake Superior Railway company for a certificate of convenience and necessity to enable it to build a new road from St. Paul and Minneapolis to Superior and Duluth. The matter was taken under advisement.

Must Copy Wisconsin Idea. In a notable sermon delivered at Boston, Mass., by Rev. A. A. Berlin, a prominent Boston divine, on "Education and the Changing Social Order," Massachusetts was declared to be "a land in need of a state university." A college education here, with all our prominence and many schools of learning, is harder to get for poor people than in Wisconsin, with its great state university," he said. "Our state, for the sake of her masses in the manufacturing centers, must come to the Wisconsin idea."

Fine Six Months' Record. The semi-annual report of the state insurance department shows receipts amounting to $556,261.96, only $7,222.08 less than the total receipts for the entire year of 1907 when the net revenue to the state after paying salaries and incidental expenses was $557,472.13. The total number of companies now doing business in the state is 615.

Secure Pardon for Bigamist. A pardon was granted Fred Stenwedel, convicted bigamist, by Gov. J. O. Davidson. Judge Brazee and others petitioned for it on the ground that Stenwedel's family was in destitute circumstances in Chicago. Stenwedel married Miss Tillie Heubolt of this city on April 12, 1907. He had a wife and four children at the time.

Antigo Makes a Complaint. The state railroad commission held a hearing on the complaint of Mayor George W. Hill and other residents of Antigo against the Antigo Water company for excessive rates for service. The commission took the case under advisement. The commission also had a hearing on the application of the Twin City & Lake Superior Railway company for a certificate of convenience and necessity to enable it to build a new road from St. Paul and Minneapolis to Superior and Duluth. The matter was taken under advisement.

Must Copy Wisconsin Idea. In a notable sermon delivered at Boston, Mass., by Rev. A. A. Berlin, a prominent Boston divine, on "Education and the Changing Social Order," Massachusetts was declared to be "a land in need of a state university." A college education here, with all our prominence and many schools of learning, is harder to get for poor people than in Wisconsin, with its great state university," he said. "Our state, for the sake of her masses in the manufacturing centers, must come to the Wisconsin idea."

German Educators Given Welcome. German educators numbering 200 from all parts of the United States who came to Milwaukee for the national convention of the German-American Teachers' association were welcomed in the Alhambra theater. A feature was the abundance of musical numbers. The stage was occupied by several hundred children dressed in white, who divided honors with the Milwaukee Maennerchor, which was repeatedly encored. Prof. Leo Stern, president of the executive committee, gave the opening address. Mayor David S. Rose was unable to be present, and Superintendent of Schools Carroll G. Benson welcomed the visitors. President August S. Lindemann, school board, spoke of great work by German teachers in preserving the tongue of the fatherland. Max Grielsch, president of the teachers' association, spoke on the aims of the association.

May Take in Cincinnati. In the convention of the German Evangelical Synod of Wisconsin, in Milwaukee, a committee was appointed to investigate and report next year on the desirability of annexing the Cincinnati synod. Rev. E. F. Dornfeld, St. Mark's church, Milwaukee, was elected trustee of the synod. Rev. B. S. Ruten, Menominee, was elected a member of the home mission. This board of trustees for Northwestern University, Watertown, was chosen: Ministers, Rev. T. Sauer, Appleton; K. Marshamiller, Manitowish; E. Dornfeld, Milwaukee; laymen, August Koelich, Milwaukee; George Zusler, La Crosse. The treasurer's report showed a total income of $62,000, of which $57,000 has been expended. The selection of a man to fill the newly created office of collector of synod funds was left to the trustees of Northwestern university.

ROUND THE CAPITAL

Information and Gossip Picked Up Here and There in Washington.

Keeper of Lid During Summer in Doubt

WASHINGTON.—Who will sit on the "lid" here during the summer, while the president is taking rest and recreation at Oyster Bay? None of the cabinet officials wants the job, and so far it has been a continual performance of sidestepping. Even when the president left for his Long Island home the other day only tentative plans for the dog days watch had been determined upon.

Secretary Root, who left at the same time, will be gone all summer. Assistant Secretary of State Bacon will be the lid sitter in the state department most of the summer. Attorney General Bonaparte will keep out of Washington as much as possible during July, paying flying visits from Baltimore. In August he will be at the Aspinwall hotel in Losos, Mass.

Secretary Metcalf has gone to California to spend the summer in the mountains. He will not be seen in Washington until frost comes.

Postmaster General Meyer will lie hence to the St. Lawrence to fish. Secretary Garfield is in Hawaii and will stay there for three months. Secretary Cortelyou will have a quiet summer, probably on Long Island.

Secretary Wilson will stay in Washington for some time on account of the business arising in connection with the enforcement of the pure food laws. If he takes a vacation he will go to his Iowa farm.

Secretary Wright, who will succeed Secretary Taft in the war department, will hardly be eligible to such a serious task as keeping the big lid down this summer. He will spend much of his time this summer in Washington, however. Secretary Strass has taken the seat on the lid and will have this throne of honor until some of the other members will consent to relieve him.

TWENTY FROZEN TO DEATH IN VOLCANO

EXPLORING EXPEDITION LOST IN CRATER IN EAST AFRICA NEAR THE EQUATOR.

BLACKS IN PANIC AT SNOW

Are Paralyzed with Terror and Throw Down Loads, Refusing to Move—German Party Experiences Remarkable Disaster.

Berlin.—A remarkable disaster has overtaken the exploring expedition of Duke Adolf Friedrich of Mecklenburg in the volcanic region in the extreme northwestern corner of German East Africa.

In the crater of Branca, one of the lower mountains, the party was overwhelmed by a terrible snowstorm, and 20 of the black contingent—nearly half of the expedition—were frozen to death about 90 miles south of the equator.

The particulars of the tragedy have come in a letter written by E. Kirchstein, geologist of the expedition, and printed in the Deutsch-Ostafrikanische Zeitung. The report has the official endorsement of Duke Adolf Friedrich.

The expedition was organized to make a study of the largest area of active volcanic phenomena in Africa, and early reports said the progress had been most favorable. The report of this terrible reverse, which is dated March 5, is as follows:

"On February 27 we completed our work on the Karisimbi volcano. The scientific results have been rich and important. Our headquarters have been on the edge of Branca crater and we broke camp to return to the foot of the mountains. We decided to descend into the crater and cross it. In the crater is a shallow swamp which is easily forded, and into this swamp we waded our way and went rapidly along until more than half across to the further crater edge.

"Suddenly and almost out of a clear sky a severe hailstorm and thick fog fire southeast wing of the second floor. The princess had ordered a room with a balcony and was justly indignant when she found she had been relegated to the fourth floor, where there was no balcony.

In vain did the manager explain that the lower floors were not in use in the summer, that they were closed entirely and dismantled. They must be opened and refurnished. Madame wanted a balcony and must have a balcony. The closed rooms were forthwith opened and furnished in the shortest possible time and Mme. la Princess Paraghy was installed in a suite of something like 20 rooms with a balcony.

She has what figures as her second sitting room exclusively for her menagerie and is lamenting that she decided to ship a young bear, a dear little tiger kitten, and a furry little lion cub direct to her home at Nice.

The princess is the most picturesque lady who has cultivated Washington for many moons. She was here for a few days last February, but attracted little attention after the fiction that she was here to paint the president had been denied both at the White House and by madam herself. She is Hungarian by birth and Russian by marriage, but that did not last long. Like any American girl, she had to get rid of her Russian prince.

But when, after taking a bacchante degree, she wished to go on studying, her family rebelled. It was then that Dr. C. W. Richardson, her brother, had the happy inspiration of taking her to the dusty old Smithsonian institution, where his influence procured her the right to work as a volunteer.

He thought one visit would be the end. So he took her up the narrow stairs to the smelly balcony, where collections of fossils were being mounted. Miss Richardson calmly sat down before a compound microscope and announced that she liked it.

That's where I found her. In a Parisian thin suit, fondling little bottles of preserved isopods as daintily as if they were thumbtacks.

Every morning from ten till one Miss Richardson is at her desk. There she has written her book, "A Monograph on the Isopods of North America," dealing with specimens furnished by the Harriman expedition to Alaska, and 15 shorter works, two of which she has just prepared for a Paris scientific paper.

But even when abroad, absent from the altitudes of the institution, the scientific side of Miss Richardson's mind asserts itself. She leaves the gay watering places and season entertainments to go and visit Dr. Thomas Scott of Aberdeen or Dr. A. M. Norman, just out of London, both famous scientists. This summer she is invited to visit Prof. Glard, director of the laboratory at Vincennes, France.

THE CONDUCTOR'S 6088.
A Pullman conductor had rheumatic pains for years, but he hasn't them now, so that is another story except to remark that 6088 took it away. What 6088? Was it a car? Road? What the conductor has written:
"Having suffered with rheumatism for years and after trying all kinds of remedies with little or no satisfaction through the kindness of a friend I tried one bottle of 6088 and have had no rheumatism since. This medicine is a jewel."

The Democratic convention is now on at Denver. Bryan is the whole thing. Theodore Bell of California was temporary chairman; the keynote of his speech was that the convention at Chicago was anything but sincere. He accuses the Republican party of being allied with the monopoly power. Henry D. Clayton, permanent chairman in his address delivered today, speaks in the same strain as the temporary chairman. The convention is adjourned to 7 this evening.

Kind friends, have you ever heard of the town of No-Good, on the banks of the river south, where the Some-times-or-other scents the air and soft Go-easies grow? It lies in the valley of what's the use, in the province of Let-hur-slide; its the home of the reckless 1-don't-care; where the Give-it-up abide. The town is as old as the human race, and it grows with the night of years; it is wrapped in the fog of the idler's dream; its streets are paved with discarded schemes, and are sprinkled with useless tears, Forsythe Mont. Times.

HOW IT WORKS.
The man who has only $10 a week is poor because he hasn't enough to buy things to eat.
When he gets $20 a week he is poor because he cannot dress well.
When he is raised to $30 a week he is still poor because he can't afford a hired girl.
Later on he receives $25,000 a year is poorer than ever. He can't go into society.
He is increased to $5,000 a year and feels the pinch whenever he sees other people riding in automobiles.
At $10,000 a year he is driven frantic trying to keep up both a town and a country house.
At $50,000 a year he is full of despair because he can't afford a steam yacht.
At $100,000 a year his daughter reproaches him for not buying a duke.
At $500,000 a year he has to stop playing golf in order to save money to pay government fines.
The question is: When is a man rich?

COUNCIL MEETING.
City Fathers Hold Long Session; Transact Much Business.
Thirty licenses were granted in place of thirty-four a year ago. It was clearly stated by the city attorney that the beer wagons have no right to accept orders upon the streets or at the private homes, that orders must be taken at the places of business where licenses are granted. Men who peddle beer have no more right to solicit orders upon the streets than do saloons whose licenses confine their business to a certain location.
The Rhinelander Lighting Company surrendered their franchise to accept an indeterminate franchise under the state railroad commission.
The matter of the Lighting Company charging a minimum of one-fifth a month was discussed and it was the consensus of opinion that no such charge could be made. The charter reads ten cents for each thousand watts actually used, and giving up the charter does not change the rate until such time as a decision is given by the railroad commission.
The action of the board of public works was confirmed in letting the macadam work to the McGrath Construction Company.
After a large batch of bills was allowed the meeting adjourned.

LIVESTOCK SHOW.
The Northwestern Livestock Association, which entered the field with a successful show at the Union Stockyards in South St. Paul last year, will present its second annual show at the same place November 15th. to 20th, 1908.
This show is conducted in the interests of the farmers and feeders and is not open in competitive classes to Agricultural Colleges, with its course of lectures and demonstrations it is designed to furnish much valuable information on the subject of animal husbandry.
The classes in the premium list cover individuals, pen lots and car lots in cattle, hogs and sheep. There are six prizes in each class for the single cattle, and five prizes in each class for swine and sheep singles; while in the car lot division there are four prizes for all kinds in each class. In all there are nearly $7,000 in premiums; and the small farmer and feeder has a good chance to win some of these prizes.
The territory of the show is limited to Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, the northern part of South Dakota and the northern part of Wisconsin.
Also there are no classes in the premium list for breeding stock. Therefore, the farmers and feeders of this territory will not be brought into competition with the professional herds shown at the big fairs.
The management of the show has felt that there is a field for it in this territory, and believe that the farmers and feeders will readily appreciate the advantages that will accrue to them through the building up of a show of this character.

OLD TIME MINSTRELS.
Twenty-nine years is a long time for an amusement enterprise to be before the public, for the theatrical sea is a stormy one, and its coast is strewn with wrecks. Many a ship has sailed gaily out of port with banners unfurled and the blare of trumpets, never to return.
When you stop to think of the number of years Richards & Pringle's Famous Minstrels have been making the world laugh, you will admit that it is nothing short of marvelous, for of all branches of amusement business, minstrelsy is most beset with perils. Other minstrel companies have sprung up, flourished a time and then disappeared, but this remarkable organization have gone along the even tenor of their way, and like Tennyson's brook, bid fair to "go on forever."

It's a great show they are offering this year, and it's new from stem to stern.
They will appear at the Grand Opera House, Wednesday, July 15th.

THREE LEGGED DOG GONE.
Dick, Wm. Danie's famous three legged dog, is no more. Dick passed from this earth into the canine heaven, yesterday morning. His demise was due to old age. There was no dog in Wisconsin as celebrated as Dick. Several years ago the animal was run over by a Soo train and lost a hind leg. Mr. Danie thought so much of the pet that he decided to save his life if possible. A surgeon was called in and the injury dressed. It required several weeks for the flesh to properly heal.
The dog appeared not in the least handicapped by the loss of the limb and could run about as fast as when he had the use of four feet. Dick never failed to attract attention especially among strangers in the city to whom a three legged dog proved a great curiosity.

DROWNED AT PLUM LAKE.
Edward La Montague aged 19 years of Wausau, was drowned in Plum Lake, Sunday afternoon. He and two friends were bathing in the lake and La Montague was stricken with cramps. One of his companions dived after him but could not bring him up. The unfortunate young man was a telegraph operator. He is survived by his parents and five sisters.

NEW LONDON BANK ROBBED.
Burglars secured $250 from the First National Bank at New London, last Sunday morning. They would not doubt have made a much bigger haul had they not been detected by a clerk in the bank who was asleep on the second floor of the building. The explosion of the dynamite in blowing open the large vault aroused the man who immediately notified the police. About $100 in nickels and dimes stored on the shelves of the vault were scattered on the floor. Of this the burglars gathered up about $250 and made their escape. In their hurry they left their tools behind. The men entered the bank by knocking a small hole through a brick wall.

MACADAM CONTRACT LET.
At the city hall Tuesday afternoon, the bids were opened for the fifteen blocks of street work as follows:

Mr. Joseph Artshoo, a full blooded Chippewa Indian whose maiden name was Minasnooseth, is dead. She was probably 100 years of age, though little is known of her childhood history. She married at La Pointe in 1841 and was said then to have been 32 years old. When the Civil war broke out one of her sons joined the union forces and was killed. Five other sons survive her.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Robbins of Spokane, Wash., were in Rhinelander the latter part of the week guests at the F. S. Robbins residence. They departed Sunday for Chicago to remain a few days before returning to their western home. Mr. Robbins is engaged in the lumber business at Spokane, and is well pleased with that city as a place of residence. He says that it is bound to become one of the greatest business centers in the west.

Unusually attractive is our present display of Pickard Hand-Painted China

This display will be most appreciated by those who take pride in the daintiness of the dining table—those who enjoy artistic decorative pieces about the home and by those who realize the skilled workmanship necessary to secure Pickard effects.

You are cordially invited to attend this exhibit.

Raps at Foreign Artists.

The New York correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt makes fun of Frau Ernestine Schumann-Heink for renouncing her allegiance to the emperor of Austria and becoming a citizen of the United States. She was sure of all her rights, he thinks, because of the American citizenship of her husband, Mr. Rap, and became a citizen of the "Land of Dollars" only for the advertisement which was sure to follow. In the advertisement the writer says that Schiller has also been annexed by the Americans, the great poet's tragedy, "Cabala und Liebe," having been placed on the stage in New York, slightly changed, under a new title, with credit to the author. After describing the performance the writer says: "In the royal tomb at Welm, the body which roasts in the casket decorated with the silver laurel wreath of the women of Hamburg certainly turned about."

GRIFFITH RESIGNS AS MANAGER OF YANKEES

Quits Job Because of Long-Continued Slump of Team—Elberfeld Probable Successor.

As a result of the long continued slump in the New York Yankees Manager Clark Griffith has tendered his resignation to President Frank Farrell. It will be accepted by Farrell, who probably will put Norman Elberfeld in charge of the team, temporarily at least.

The Yankees started out like winners this season, but since leaving New York three weeks ago the team has won only four out of 18 games played, and seems hopelessly anchored to the second division.

It is probable that Elberfeld will continue as manager of the team for the remainder of the season at least. What arrangements Farrell may make to appoint a permanent successor to Griffith is a matter of speculation. There is a persistent rumor that Billy Murray, now manager of the Philadelphia Nationals, will take charge of the New York team next spring.

President Farrell declares that Griffith quit voluntarily, and Griffith himself denies that he was forced out. He has not been in good health for the last three seasons, and has often declared that he would have retired before if he could have given New York a pennant winner.

In justice to Mr. Farrell and myself I think a change in management will give better results," said Griffith. "Whenever the team had a chance to win a pennant luck broke against us. We have had nothing but bad breaks for a month, and there seems no end to the slump. I want it distinctly understood that Mr. Farrell and myself are good friends. He has always treated me fine and has spared no expense to get a winner. He surely deserves something better than a second division team. I stand ready to help him in any way that I can."

Griffith began his league career with the Chicago Nationals in 1898, becoming famous as a pitcher under Captain Anson. He remained with the West Siders until the American league war, when he joined Comiskey's team and acted as manager in 1901 and 1902.

He won the flag for the White Sox the first year he managed the team, but when Johnson's league decided to invade New York and rival the Giants, he was sent by Comiskey as a sort of present to Farrell, and was appointed manager of the Highlanders.

He has been fairly successful as a manager in New York, for though the Hill Top gang has never won a pennant, several times they have come within a short distance of it.

Griffith was one of the wise heads among the pitchers, and while he was possessed of all the skill of an ordinary first-class pitcher, it was often rather quick work with his brain than his hands that won games for the Colts and earned him the name of "the Fox."

He owns a big ranch in Montana, and is said to have decided to pay most of his attention to it now that he has given up the game.

MRS. FRANK STROEBE

A Remarkable Recovery.
Mrs. Frank Stroebe, R. T. D. 1, Appleton, Wis., writes: "I began using Peruna a few months ago, when my health and strength were all gone, and I was nothing but a nervous wreck, could not sleep, eat or rest properly, and felt no desire to live. Peruna made me look at life in a different light, as I began to regain my lost strength."
"I certainly think Peruna is without a rival as a tonic and strength builder."

"GATOR ON THE RAMPAGE."
Edifying Story That is Vouched for by the Georgia Ananias.

"Yes," said the fisherman, "the man had fished all the forenoon, an' hadn't got a nibble, so he took another swaller out the jug, pulled off his boots, an' lay down on the river bank an' went to sleep. As soon as he went to snorin' good, a alligator that had been watchin' him all the mornin' crawled up an' swallered his boots, likewise the jug, with 'bout half a gallon in it, I reckon. The cork came out, and, of course, the 'gator got the full benefit o' the whiskey, which so turned its head that it lashed the water with its tail till the river was a foamlin' mass, after which it crawled up on the bank agin an' made despr't efforts to climb trees an' turn double-somersaults, an' do all manner of impossible things!"

"Why didn't it swallow the fisherman, instead of his boot?" some one asked.

"Gators, gentlemen," said the storyteller, "can't stand overmuch. They must draw the line someers."—Atlanta Constitution.

Romance and Reality.
"Let the youngsters have their romance—an' I'll be all the better for 'em if they git a purty good dose on it; but don't hide from 'em the fact that that's somethin' in the shape of trouble a-waitin' fer 'em up the road," said Mr. Lilly Sanders. "Not big trouble, tooby shore, but jest big enough to make 'em stick closer together. It ain't no use to try to rub out the fact that life is what it is. It's full of rough places, an' thar are times when you have to leave the big road an' take a short-cut through the bamboo briars for to keep from slippin' in a mudhole. The briars hurt, but the mudhole mought smother you. It ain't no use to deny it, trouble is seasonin'." I never know'd it to hurt any body but the weak-minded, the willful an' them that was born to the purple."

Hurt a Convict's Pride.
A church missionary had a letter recently from a convict begging him to reform the writer's wife, who was also in prison.

The convict—who is serving a long term—was very anxious about the matter, because, as he said: "It was no credit to him to receive letters from such a place as prison."

Another convict, in the course of a letter to his brother, a pauper, remarked: "Well, Jack, thank goodness I have never sunk so low as the workhouse yet."—London Daily News.

A Good Turn.
"Here, wake up," cried Subbubs, appearing on his porch in his pajamas. "You've got a nerve to be sleeping in our hammock."

"Nerve?" replied the hobo, sleepily. "Why, I'm a benefactor; if it wasn't for me holdin' 'is hammock down de mosquitoes would 'a' lugged it off long ago."

Thompson's Eye Water

SHOULD William Howard Taft be chosen by the American people as the twenty-sixth official tenant of the White House he will be the biggest man on the biggest job in the gift of the people of these United States. More than that, he will be the first president who has actually traveled around the world before induction into office, as well as the only one who has had the opportunity to personally familiarize himself with all of the territory subject to the authority of the chief executive. He is the first man to have what might fairly be called a presidential training, for his governmental service has been of a nature peculiarly fitting him for what President Roosevelt has declared to be "the hardest job in the world."

William Howard Taft organized himself for the presidency by selecting Ohio as his natal state—he was born at Cincinnati, September 15, 1857—and in the event of election, will place the Buckeye state on an equal footing with Virginia as the "Mother of Presidents." From the "Old Dominion" have come Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe and Tyler, while Ohio has furnished William Henry Harrison, Hayes, Garfield and McKinley.

The father of the present secretary of war was a secretary of war during the administration of President Grant and also attorney general in the same cabinet, so the son has heredity in his favor, both as a lawyer and as a war secretary. His training has been along executive and judicial lines rather than legislative as is readily disclosed by the record of his achievement.

Graduating from Yale in 1878, the second in a class of 121, his degree of LL. B. came from the law school of Cincinnati College in 1880, the same year that he was admitted to the Ohio bar. Then he broadened his field a bit and was a reporter on the Cincinnati Times and the Cincinnati Commercial for a year.

Since 1881, when he was made assistant prosecuting attorney of Hamilton county, Ohio, in which is Cincinnati, he has filled many public offices. He has been collector of internal revenue of the First Ohio district, assistant county solicitor of Hamilton county, Ohio; solicitor general of the United States; United States circuit judge of the Sixth circuit; president of the United States Philippine Commission; civil governor of the Philippine Islands and secretary of war. In 1903 he declined the appointment as associate justice of the United States supreme court. He acted as provisional governor of Cuba, following the insurrection of 1906, and during his incumbency of the secretarial office has visited Panama, Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines, returning to this country by way of Russia. The mere narration of the facts will indicate that the man who is fat and fifty, is also fit.

There is likely to be much said of the fatness of Taft during the impending campaign. And in truth he is fat, very fat. Once when asked by a newspaper man how much he weighed, he answered with great solemnity: "No gentleman weighs over 300." This, by-the-by, was after a six months' course of the most painstaking effort to reduce his adipose tissue. He managed to pull under the 300 mark by taking off 80 pounds and then stopped. If he is tipping the beam at less than 300 to-day he does not look the part. But the fatness of Taft is not offensive. His flesh is well distributed and I should prefer to call him an expansive man rather than a fat one. He is big of frame, wide of shoulder as well as girth and his supporting columns are well proportioned to carry his bulk. He is alert, active and carries himself very well, although it must be admitted that in a court known to trade and commerce as a Prince Albert he is almost as wide across the back as a furniture van.

He is not sensitive concerning his weight, is the portly secretary, and will laugh as good-naturedly as the next man when the stock joke of Washington is repeated in company—and it has been repeated so many times that it should be familiar to everyone who has heard of Taft. It is, however, considered proper to repeat it whenever excuse offers, so here it is once more:

During the time of his service as governor of the Philippines he worked so hard that his health broke. Knowing that his friends were worried and anxious to reassure them, he cabled: "Rode 20 miles up the mountain to-day. Feeling fine." Whereupon Secretary Root wired back: "Fine, but how is the horse?"

All jokes pertaining to Taft are gargantuan as witness the oft repeated one: "Secretary Taft rose in a street car the other day and gallantly gave his seat to two ladies." Then there is the story known as the trousers incident. It was to the effect that while in Russia an accident happened to his dress clothes and he kept the czar waiting an hour while a force of tailors mended the tear.

But the fatness of Taft is merely physical. It does not extend to his mentality. At college he was an honor man. In athletics he displayed great prowess. He was the star of his class crew and the best wrestler in the gymnasium. His popularity was unquestioned and his sense of honor so keen that when the regularity of his election to a class post of honor was questioned he declined the office, only to be unanimously chosen to the same place immediately afterwards. In those days he was known as "Big Bill" and "Big Bill" he is to-day.

The habit of hard work was already his. It was his when he went to Washington as solicitor general, during Harrison's administration. It may have been this habit of hard work which drew to him the friendship of another strenuous and energetic official, Civil Service Commissioner Roosevelt. The friendship formed at that time has strengthened with the passing of the years and to-day no man, barring perhaps Charles P. Taft, is more eagerly enthusiastic for the success of "Big Bill" than Theodore Roosevelt.

It was in the interval between his service as solicitor general and as governor of the Philippines that, in his capacity as United States circuit judge, he rendered certain decisions affecting labor which have brought criticism from labor leaders, but even these have not questioned his integrity.

In 1900 a man was needed in the Philippines. A man who, in the words of McKinley, was big, strong, patient, tactful yet firm, and willing to kill himself with hard work if necessary. Judge Day, then secretary of state, suggested that Taft be sent for. Taft came and when told that he was needed in the Philippines, said that he did not want to go as his ambition was for judicial, not executive work. THE HUMAN TOUCH

"Junie had a doll that would say 'papa' and 'mamma'."
"What became of it?"
"Junie's mother is an advanced person and said the doll was an inexcusable childish reminder of a grossly benighted period."
"And what did she do?"
"She threw it in a dark closet where Junie didn't dare to go. And then a day or two later she happened to step on it in the dark and it shrieked

"mamma!" so naturally that she fell over in a faint and bumped her head and had two buckets of water poured over her before she recovered consciousness."

"There's no plousin' a woman," remarked Mr. Jimmison, "when she's feelin' cantankerous. Says I to my wife the other night, when I seen that she was sore at things in gin'ral and me in particular, says I: 'My dear, you're prettier 'n you was when I first knew you.' An' says she: 'That's right,

BEHIND THE SCENES IN POLITICS

By ERNEST McGAFFEY

"SKATE NO. 1 WOULD INTRODUCE SKATE NO. 2"

"WHAT'S THE CONSTITUTION BETWEEN FRIENDS?"

"THE CHEAP GRAFTER NEVER HAS ANY FRIENDS"

"How are you, Jack? Glad to see you got that appointment. What is there in it for you?"

"Four thousand a year."

"Oh, I don't mean the salary—to hell with the salary; but what is there in it for you on the side?"

"Not a cent. Just the salary, that's all."

"Come off! Why, two of that last bunch cleaned up ten thousand apiece before they walked the plank."

"Well, it's a new deal. No side issues for me. Just the little old four thousand. That's all."

"Why, you ain't honest, are you, Jack?"

"Well, I never had 'Honest John' tacked onto me for a handicap, but I don't want to go along the street looking back to see if anyone's following me."

"But those fellows are alive and well to-day, and the statute of limitations has run on 'em."

"Yes, maybe; but it would be just my luck to get 'snaked.' My tailor says stripes are unbecoming on tall men, anyway."

"You're foolish, Jack."

"A regular lobster, Billy; but when I'm let out I want to sleep nights, without listening for some one to ring the door-bell and ask 'how about it?'"

The foregoing conversation is verbally a correct transcript between an appointee to a city office and a political acquaintance, the well-known and almost "disheveled" attorney, the Hon. William "Skipshank."

It occurred just as written down, and is merely given to illustrate the general idea prevalent among the crooked, the crafty and the unscrupulous that public office was a private "snipe."

The salary was supposed to be merely expense money for being in the political game; the real "money" was to be gotten out of "side deals," schemes where the official was to use his influence and his opportunities to get into "something good," whereby for favors either directly or indirectly granted he got what is known sometimes as his "rake-off," or his "bit."

If he was in a position where contracts were to be let "to the lowest bidder" it was his business, if a "grafter," to see that his "man" was the lowest bidder, or to have a "combination" among the bidders so that the contracts would be divided among two or three favored firms or individuals; or to work in some one as sub-contractor, or in various ways "get a finger in the pie," so that he could "help up" somebody for "a divvy." Where individual officials had the entire control of their offices, their opportunities for "graft" were, of course, extensive; where officials were co-associated in city work, there had to be either a complete and general understanding as to "crooked work," or there might be underhand work by one or two men which was hidden from the rest.

The public had weird and unique ideas about "graft." The fact that "grafting" was carried on in city hall and city departments to a greater or less extent during every political administration was a fact that was undeniable. Sometimes an administration was especially corrupt; sometimes the administration was headed by a man who was even by his bitterest enemies acknowledged to be strictly honest. But as no one man could oversee the ins and outs of every department in the city, there was bound to be some "grafting," however petty, somewhere in the various offices or departments.

But the public generally seemed to be of the opinion that the instant a man was appointed or elected to office his entire nature changed. The people imagined, apparently, that a business man whose integrity, through many years, had never been questioned became "crooked" the instant he took the oath of office. And because of this, the most insulting and libelous statements were being bandied back and forth by irresponsible parties, concerning men who were honestly and conscientiously doing their duty in public offices.

Citizens who appropriated without any legal right the sidewalks in front of their stores for shipping purposes—men who would follow an alderman for weeks in order to get a buy-window put in a downtown shop contrary to the ordinances, people who hung about the city hall from dawn to twilight trying to get a railroad pass, would enter a public office with the air of Daniel going down the elevator into the lion's den. And if a question was asked them when they stood there in the hall, they would tell you: "These folks that are always scolding 'graft' in every public office and other—these 'Holy Willees' that assume such an 'uncolored' air, they are often the people that will bear watching themselves."

The fact of the matter was that that real "graft" was handled by men who worked it so that nearly always it was entirely legal, in the strict letter of the law. A measly five or ten-dollar bill handed here and there for some favor was a mere bagatelle. And as for "graft" in politics, the legislatures of the various states are as mighty universities to kindergarten compared to city administrations. As for the United States senate—but that is the "king row" on the political checker-board, and not a matter for comment in this article.

Money is the cheapest and least dangerous form of "graft." I mean money that buys favors; bribes; in a word, big "graft" concerns itself with "shades," "steaks," "interests"—things that cannot be traced so easily to corrupt sources. Big grafters are afraid of cold cash. They want something that can be

IS HAUNTED BY GIRL'S GHOST

Spectral Form That Inhabits Old Forts at Southwick.

Southwick, the pretty little seaside resort a few miles from Brighton, England, has it round out that it has a ghost, and efforts are being made by the inhabitants to discover its identity.

The story of the discovery is told by a correspondent of the Hove Gazette, who states that one evening recently he visited the dilapidated forts at Southwick in company with a friend.

"We walked round the moat," he continues, "and were looking through one of the narrow windows into a small room, where walls used to be covered with the songs and laughter of the soldiers stationed there, when suddenly it was about 9:45 p. m., and darkness was just settling in, we saw a tall white form attired in a white sheet.

"The figure was tall, and its covering, as far as one could see, was extremely thin."

"An old Southwick boatman told us a wonderful yarn about a young soldier who had rowed a beautiful maiden over the bar late one night and had crucially murdered her there, and ever since her spirit had haunted the fort, must say I was dreadfully afraid, and my young friend, who had just remarked: 'Oh, this would be a capital spot for a ghost,' shook all over and nearly fainted."

AGED MAN DANCES ON STREET MINUS CLOTHES

ROSENBAUM PIROUQUETTED WITH HIS SHADOW FOR PARTNER EARLY IN THE MORNING.

New York.—When Policeman O'Rourke, of the Clymer street station, Williamsburg, saw a nude figure dancing in the moonlight on the sidewalk at Throop avenue, at about three o'clock the other morning, he rubbed his eyes to make sure he hadn't accidentally fallen into a nap. Then he advanced on the figure and found it was an old man, bearded, and with a dignified expression, gravely skipping and piroqueting with his shadow for a partner.

"What are you doing here?" asked the policeman. "Are you crazy?" But the nude figure made no reply and kept on carolling and bowing with evident pleasure. Then the policeman grabbed him, and they had a struggle before the man was quieted.

The dancer was Solomon Rosenbaum, sixty-nine years old, who lives with his wife and sons and daughters on Throop avenue. He used to have a fruit and produce business, but lost much money in the recent financial troubles and has been mentally unbalanced ever since. Members of his family recently have kept a close watch on him, fearing he would attempt to kill himself, and the other day his clothes were taken from him, the presumption being that without them he would not attempt to leave the house.

A doctor was called and had the old man put in a straightjacket. He fought so in the ambulance that he was taken him to Kings County hospital to have his mental condition examined that he broke the straightjacket and had to be held down by the attendants.

Cousins of Patient Contributing Bits of Cuticle

Lima, O.—One of the most remarkable cases of skin grafting known to the medical scientists of the state is that now in course of treatment upon Forbes Bailey at the City Hospital.

Bailey was horribly burned about six months ago by burning waste alleged to have been placed down his back in a joke by a fellow employe at the Lima Locomotive works. He was removed to the hospital six weeks ago and skin grafting begun, and the slow process has been on since that date, at this time over 300 pieces of skin, some no larger than the head of a tack, are growing. Twenty-five pieces were added the other day, contributed by a girl cousin of the patient, while many other persons have already contributed skin from their own bodies in order that the life of the victim may be spared.

The surgeons estimate it will require 2,000 pieces of skin in varying sizes, and the process, necessarily slow, will require a period of at least six months. At the present time the patient is doing nicely, though it has been impossible for him to lie upon his back. Another girl cousin has consented to furnish the next supply of skin, and in a few days will submit to the operation of permitting a number of small pieces of cuticle to be removed from her and placed upon the back of her kinsman.

WOULD TOW IT, ANYWAY.

Tugboat Captain Ready for Any Ship That Came His Way.

An Irish tugboat captain who is a popular favorite along the waterfront on account of his bluff, hearty ways, imbibed somewhat freely of the schooners passing over the bars of South street the other night and finally, when he up-anchored and steered for the pier at which his boat was lying, he carried a fair-sized cargo, says the New York Press. Boarding his boat, he gave orders to cast off and astonished his mate by informing him that he was going out to look for a tow.

He steered his boat out into the dark, foggy night till some time later he ran by a lightship, which he was unable to make out because of the darkness. It so happened that the keeper was trimming one of the lights at the time, and thus only one light was showing, which is the signal for a tow.

The captain ran his boat up alongside and bellowed out into the night:

"Hey, aboard ship there!"

No reply.

"I say, aboard ship there!" repeated the captain in stentorian tones.

This time the keeper responded with a whoop.

"Do you want a tow in?" shouted the captain, making a megaphone of his hands.

"Ye drunken fool!" came the reply. "Don't ye see this here is a lightship?"

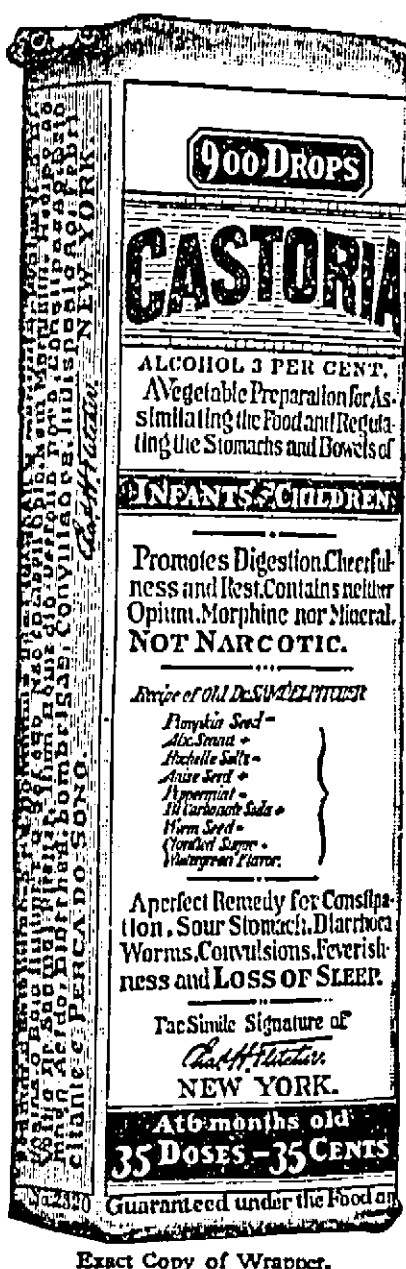

The captain squared himself belligerently and shouted back in exasperation:

"An' phwat does that matter, ye son of a gun? Faith, I don't care a d— whether ye are light 'r loaded, I'll tow ye in anyhow!"

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent, or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent, or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. A. F. Peeler, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy."

Dr. E. Down, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria in my practice for many years with great satisfaction to myself and benefit to my patients."

Dr. Edward Parrish, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild laxative effect and freedom from harm."

Dr. J. B. Elliott, of New York City, says: "Having during the past six years prescribed your Castoria for infantile stomach disorders, I most heartily commend its use. The formula contains nothing deleterious to the most delicate of children."

Dr. C. G. Sprague, of Omaha, Neb., says: "Your Castoria is an ideal medicine for children, and I frequently prescribe it. While I do not advocate the indiscriminate use of proprietary medicines, yet Castoria is an exception for conditions which arise in the care of children."

Dr. J. A. Parker, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact, it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments."

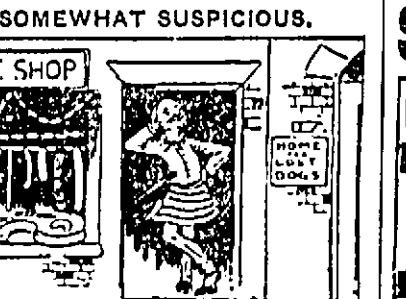

Dr. H. F. Merrill, of Augusta, Me., says: "Castoria is one of the very finest and most remarkable remedies for infants and children. In my opinion your Castoria has saved thousands from an early grave. I can furnish hundreds of testimonials from this locality as to its efficiency and merits."

Dr. Norman M. Coer, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "During the past twelve years I have frequently recommended your Castoria as one of the best preparations of the kind, being safe in the hands of parents and very effective in relieving children's disorders, while the ease with which such a pleasant preparation can be administered is a great advantage."

DOCTOR SAID "USE CUTICURA"

In Bad Case of Eczema on Child—Disease Had Reached a Fearful Stage—His Order Resulted in Complete Cure.

"When I was small I was troubled with eczema for about three months. It was all over my face and covered nearly all of my head. It reached such a state that it was just a large scab all over, and the pain and itching were terrible. I doctored with an able physician for some time and was then advised by him to use the Cuticura Remedies which I did and I was entirely cured. I have not been bothered with it since. I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment but do not know exactly how much was used to complete the cure. I can safely say that Cuticura did a lot for me. Miss Anabel Wilson, North Branch, Mich., Oct. 20, 1907."

Up to His Tricks.

Lord Henslyn, at a dinner in New York, said of a notorious London spendthrift:

"When he was at Oxford he wired once to his uncle, whose heir he was: 'If you don't send me a hundred by Saturday, I'll howl my brains out.'"

"His uncle wired back: 'You telegraphed me that before, and when I forwarded you my best revolver, you went and pawned it.'"

Dust and Gasoline.

"I had to sell my auto, but I haven't missed it as yet."

"How's that?"

"You can get most of the sensations by cleaning rugs."

CASSIAN.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank White departed for their home in Hammond, Ind., Sunday evening. They were accompanied by his sister Miss Edna White who will visit in Hammond several weeks.

Ira Smith and J. P. Solmer are surveying for the town this week near Harshaw.

The Misses Clara Olson and Bena Enkrud will depart for their home at Neenah this week, having finished their work at the camp as cooks. The mill will not start up again for about six weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Marsh spent the Fourth with A. K. Tressness and family.

Deil Kibler was a Rhinelander visitor over the Fourth.

Several of the Cassian young people picked at Harshaw the Fourth.

Miss Mildred Smith departed for Merrill Sunday evening to attend the teachers institute for the ensuing three weeks. Several of her school mates joined her at Tomahawk.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sestler, Mr. and Mrs. Iva E. Smith, Willie Sestler and Alvin Buslett were Tomahawk visitors last Thursday.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL.

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Rhinelander People Know How to save it.

Many Rhinelander people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a Rhinelander citizen's recommendation.

Mrs. Perkins, 33 Mercer St., Rhinelander, Wis., says: "I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for I know them to be a remedy worth of the endorsement of any one who uses them. I did not have a very severe case of kidney trouble, but was at times quite miserable from a weakness of the kidneys. I also had severe headaches and a dull, languid feeling. A few weeks ago I sent to Reardon's drug store, obtained a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and was relieved in a short time by their use of all pain and distress. Other members of my family have also used them with good results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
